Project P.R.O.T.E.C.T. is affiliated with Corey Jewell-Jensen, co-director Behavioral Intervention in Beaverton, Oregon.

Goals:

- Build awareness of child sexual abuse issues in homes, churches communities, etc.
- Conduct prevention workshops in churches and other organizations.
- Develop posters, pamphlets, etc. to increase awareness of child sexual abuse.
- Provide yearly training to equip individuals to conduct workshops, presentations, etc.
- Participate in community events.
- Collaborate and network with other agencies to strengthen and expand the project.

Philosophy:

God mandates that we protect child which includes reporting it. Education and awareness helps prevent child sexual abuse. Sexually abusing a child is breaking one of God's Ten Commandments: "Thou shalt not steal." Exodus 20:15. God wants us to shelter, care for, defend, safeguard, look after, and save all of His children from harm. Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Mark 10:14.
